

About the Parenting Research Centre

The Parenting Research Centre is Australia's only independent non-profit research and development centre dedicated to helping parents raise happy, healthy children.

Working across the health, education and welfare sectors, the Centre works closely with policy makers, organisational leaders and practitioners to help them improve outcomes for children through effective support for parents and families.

The Centre supports the adoption of evidence-based practice and policy with rigorous research, knowledge synthesis and translation, and systematic implementation support.

About the The Intensive Family Support Services Program

The Intensive Family Support Services (IFSS) is a key part of the Australian Government's investment in services to support vulnerable children and their families living in the Northern Territory. IFSS is an intensive in-home family support service designed to help families involved in the child protection system improve the health, safety and wellbeing of their children. IFSS is delivered in urban, rural and remote communities throughout the Northern Territory. Parenting Research Centre's Implementation Capacity Support project provides a range of technical assistance to IFSS Providers working across the Northern Territory.

About the Opportunity

The Parenting Research Centre has a rewarding opportunity for an Implementation Specialist to join their team in Darwin, NT. This is a full time role being offered on a fixed term, 3 year contract with the possibility of extension.

This challenging and varied role will find you responsible for overseeing and supporting the implementation of evidence-based programs and practices in child and family health, education, child protection, and welfare services, specifically working on the ICSS (Implementation Capacity Support Services) for the Intensive Family Support Services in the NT. Additionally, you will be responsible for leading a team that will be working collaboratively with government and non-government agencies to build their capacity to successfully implement evidenced-based approaches for the purpose of achieving positive and lasting outcomes for children and their families.

About the Benefits

In recognition of your hard work and enthusiasm, you will be rewarded with an attractive salary from $105k base (negotiable on skills and experience) plus super and have the opportunity to further develop your practice experience in a growing organisation.

Other benefits of working at PRC include:

- Remote allowance up to $5000;
- A supportive, flexible and autonomous working environment;
- 5 weeks annual leave each year with the option to purchase additional leave;

- Supervision to develop your skills and practice; and
- Opportunity to be part of an exciting new project and make a difference in the lives of parents and children.

Best of all, you will gain tremendous satisfaction in this rewarding role where you will have the opportunity to support parents raise happy and healthy children.

If you're ready to take the next step in your career - Apply Now!

For more information, and to apply, visit <http://applynow.net.au/jobs/66968>